

Contact: Paula Vargas
Office: (303) 286-3266
Cell: (720) 814-0475

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

July 21, 2022

METRO WATER RECOVERY ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

DENVER, Colo. – The Metro Water Recovery Board of Directors elected new officers on Tuesday, July 19, 2022, at its regular monthly meeting.

Each member is appointed to a one-year term.

Andrew Johnston is the new the chair. He represents the City and County of Denver and has served on the board since 2011. Johnston works for Denver’s Department of Housing Stability as the catalytic projects lead.

Sarah Niyork is the chair pro tem. She represents the South Adams County Water & Sanitation District and is the district’s accountant. Niyork has served on the board since 2019.

Jo Ann Giddings is the secretary. She represents the City of Aurora and has served on the board since 2019. Giddings is the Deputy Director of Aurora Water Financial Services.

Del Smith is the treasurer. He represents the Bancroft Clover Water and Sanitation District. Smith is a civil engineer for the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation and has served on the board since 2018.

Photos of each officer are available upon request

About Metro Water Recovery

Metro (formerly Metro Wastewater Reclamation District) was formed under Colorado law in 1961 and is the largest wastewater treatment facility in the Rocky Mountain West. Metro works with 61 local governments, including cities, counties, sanitation districts, and water and sanitation districts. They, in turn, provide retail wastewater service to approximately 2.2 million people in an 805 square-mile service area in metropolitan Denver.

###

6450 York St., Denver, CO 80229

Main line: 303-286-3000

Telefax: 303-286-3030

William J. “Mickey” Conway
Chief Executive Officer